Two local projects are moving toward completion including Bi-Mart in Washougal and Camas' new westside fire station. Officials plan to open the Bi-Mart store (left) by the end of March. Interviews for the new location's 45 jobs are underway. Information regarding other businesses that will locate in the complex has not yet been released. The new fire station (top), located at Northwest 38th and Parker streets, is expected to be completed in mid-February. The 11,000-square-foot facility includes three vehicle bays, staff quarters and a community meeting room. A training tower, located next to the facility, can be seen in the back left corner.
